

Free or Low-Cost Internet Options

Comcast/Xfinity

Internet Essentials Service Plan

Comcast is offering Internet Essentials for free for 60 days. The service, providing a substantial 25 Mbps, is normally $9.95 per month for families meeting income eligibility requirements.

To apply visit: www.internetessentials.com

Note: you may need to provide photographs or scans of documents to show proof of eligibility requirements

Xfinity Hotspots

Xfinity hotspots are currently free to everyone. On your device, look for networks and select XFINITY. You will have to read and accept their terms of agreement. You will be able to connect to any Xfinity hotspot.

A map of hotspots can be searched at: <http://wifi.xfinity.com/>

Verizon

Verizon wireless plans have been upgraded to include a minimum of 15 GB's per month. Phones can be used as hotspots to connect other devices to the Internet.

Verizon has also announced new lower cost Internet plans for families in need. Additional measures the company is taking to help during this difficult time can be found at:

<https://www.verizon.com/about/news/verizon-helps-eliminate-worry>